

Stay alert, Stay firm

At the outset, let me express my sincere thanks to you all for giving me the opportunity to meet you. It is a pleasure to share with you the various events, experiences, and the resounding success.

As we all know, people across the world, especially in our nation, face the issue of global warming. Our nation lies in the hot belt. Our colleague doctors need to attend to a higher number of patients suffering from heatstroke and other ailments due to the extreme heat conditions. The doctors should take care of themselves, seek help when needed, and keep themselves protected.

In spite of such troubles, our members in many branches have not stopped their activities for the betterment of the surrounding communities and people.

NIMA has set a unique example of communication and coordination, a legitimate organization fighting for the authentic legal rights of ISM doctors. The Union government is reportedly set to introduce a new integrated course that combines MBBS and BAMS, as announced by the Union Minister of State for Health and Family Welfare and AYUSH, Prataprao Jadhav.

Is the government offering and providing facilities? If so, we must come forward, welcome, and accept such support.

Many times, people think that modernity fits every aspect of life, but that is not always the case. At certain points, Ayurveda focuses on treating the whole person rather than just the symptom of a disease. It emphasizes balance in all aspects of life—mental, emotional, physical, and spiritual. This holistic approach to Ayurveda has convinced people across the globe to turn to Ayurveda over other healthcare systems. Data suggests that 77% of Indian households utilize Ayurvedic medicines and approach Ayurvedic healthcare for a healthy life.

Preventive healthcare is one of the major benefits of Ayurveda treatment as Ayurveda primarily focuses on treating the root cause of medical ailments and offers long-term cure.

When NITI Ayog acknowledged the shortage of doctors in India, ISM doctors made the maximum contribution to national healthcare. Even now, NIMA will continue to provide health and welcome this bill.

Friends, stay alert and United !
